TO: Chair and Board Members
Yolo County Habitat JPA

FROM: Maria Wong
Executive Director

DATE: July 19, 2010

SUBJECT: Adopt interim policies regarding management of endowment accounts held by the JPA

---

Requested Action:

1. Adopt the County of Yolo Investment Policy as the JPA's interim investment policy related to endowment accounts held by the JPA;
  2. Adopt the Interim Endowment Policy and implement it until adoption of the HCP/NCCP.

REASON FOR RECOMMENDED ACTION:

The JPA will benefit from the adoption of specific policies related to management of its endowed accounts during the remainder of the HCP/NCCP planning process.

BACKGROUND:

The JPA holds and manages endowment accounts for most of the conservation easements it has funded or in which it has an interest. These accounts provide funding to carry out the long term monitoring responsibilities associated with conservation easements. The JPA's endowment accounts are currently managed by Yolo County pursuant to its investment policy. The County's pooled investment strategy has resulted in a better rate of return than the JPA could have achieved individually.

This summer staff will undertake initial monitoring and reporting for the JPA's Swainson's hawk conservation easements. The work will be conducted by the easement holders or by JPA staff when the JPA holds the easement. Invoices for the work will be paid out of interest generated from the endowment accounts.

DISCUSSION:

Recent concerns related to aggressive investing strategies and significant principal losses during the ongoing national economic crisis have refocused discussions on how endowments are calculated and managed. These discussions are particularly relevant to the JPA's responsibility to establish and manage accounts that generate sufficient funding to conduct monitoring and provide for the legal defense of conservation easements in which it has an interest.

Staff recommends that the JPA continue to utilize the Yolo County investment pool and adopt Yolo County's investment protocol, augmented by the draft Yolo NHP Interim Endowment Policy (Attachment A). The specific financial needs of the HCP/NCCP will be available this fall as the planning process concludes. The JPA or its successor will reassess the endowment and investment strategy when the HCP/NCCP is adopted.

FISCAL IMPACT: None
